

Speaker Bio: Chris Sullivan (Shockwave)

Chris Sullivan has been a beatboxer for 15ish years and a lover of music, improvisation and comedy all of his life. While in High School, he founded a youth organization called "The Foxboro Fun Foundation" that held monthly rock shows, rallied town service events and lobbied for a skateboard park (and succeeded!). Upon graduation, he served in Boston's City Year

Americorps, graduated from University of Massachusetts with a Communications degree and moved to New York City to pursue a career in comedy and music. He has performed all over the world making up beats, sounds, and jokes from Australia to Scotland, from Costa Rica to Tahiti to the NYC Subway System. Television Credits include: ESPN, Fuse, College Humor, Nickelodeon, MTV, Comedy Central, and most notably Sesame Workshop's "The Electric Company." Chris has studied improvisation with NYC's The People's Improv Theater, The Upright Citizen's Brigade Theater, and teachers of Chicago's Annoyance Theater. He has worked regularly with Beatboxer Entertainment performing with such greats as Doug E. Fresh and Biz Markie. He attributes his success to a solid foundation of good teachers, self discipline and SERVICE. Watch for Shockwave's group "Freestyle Love Supreme" performing around NYC and with it's own TV show on the cable network "Pivot" this Fall 2014.
